IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR DRINKING WATER PERRY WATER SYSTEM Water Treatment Plant Disinfection Byproducts Monitoring Public Notice

What happened?

Our water system did not meet the requirements of a drinking water standard. Although this is not an emergency, as our customers, you have a right to know what happened, what you should do, and what we are doing to correct this situation.

We routinely monitor for the presence of drinking water contaminants. Testing results we received from samples taken August 27, 2020, when averaged with quarterly results from the past year, show that our system exceeds the standards, or maximum contaminant levels (MCL), for Disinfection Byproducts (DBPs), which includes Total Trihalomethanes (TTHMs) and Haloacetic Acids [Five] (HAA5s). The standard for HAA5s is 60 µg/L, the average level of HAA5s over the last year was 66.92 µg/L (as of August 27, 2020) at Taylor Correctional.

What should I do?

Some people who drink water containing HAA5s in excess of the MCL over many years may have an increased risk of getting cancer.

Any customers who are concerned about their exposure to DBPs may choose alternative sources of water for ingestion. You do not need to boil your water. However, if you have specific health concerns, please consult your doctor

What does this mean?

This is not an immediate risk. If it had been, you would have been notified immediately.

What is being done?

For the MCL exceedance, the chlorine injection system at the Water Treatment Plant has been adjusted in conjunction with the Public demand flow. We have set up flushing points to improve circulation of water in areas that may have lower volume flows. The water system will continue to be monitored and adjusted to reduce the formation of Haloacetic Acids.

We will continue to monitor during the second month / second week of every three months and report to you by public notice on our results of sampling for Haloacetic Acids only if the running annual (quarterly) average exceeds 60 micrograms per liter (µg/L) at our sampling sites.

For more information, please contact Jerald Lee, at 850-584-7940.

Please share this information with all the other people who drink this water, especially those who may not have received this notice directly (for example, people in apartments, nursing homes, schools, and businesses). IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR DRINKING WATER PERRY WATER SYSTEM Chemical Monitoring Public Notice

What happened?

Our water system did not meet the requirements of a drinking water rule. Although this is not an emergency, as our customers, you have a right to know what happened, what you should do, and what we are doing to correct this situation.

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a regular basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not your drinking water meets health standards.

During the 2020 monitoring period, we did not monitor or test for Synthetic Organic Contaminants (SOCs), and therefore cannot be sure of the quality of your drinking water at that time.

What should I do?

Some people who drink water containing Synthetic Organic Contaminants (SOCs) could become seriously ill. Health effects language for individual contaminants can be obtained by visiting the EPA website at: <https://www.epa.gov/ground-water-and-drinking-water/table-regulated-drinking-water-contaminants> or by contacting us at the number below.

Any customers who are concerned about their exposure to these contaminants can choose alternative sources of water for ingestion.

What does this mean?

This is not an immediate risk. If it had been, you would have been notified immediately.

What is being done?

The City of Perry is flushing hydrants through the City.
