

Hathcock re-appointed to 2nd term

SEWER BOARD Continued from page 1

appointed last summer when the commission removed all but one member of the TCWSD board and appointed new members. His term was set to expire May 3, and he told District Manager Lynette Senter he wished to continue serving on the board.

In a Monday, April 25, e-mail to County Administrator LaWanda Pemberton, Senter requested the county commission consider re-appointing Hathcock to another term, which will run through May 3,

Senter also stated that following the TCWSD board's next meeting, she would submit an agenda request asking the commission fill the vacancy that would occur with the end of Thomas Kicklighter's term on May 3.

"I currently have four applications, and I'd like my board to review them so that we can include a recommendation on the agenda request," Senter wrote.

At the commission's May 2 meeting, English made a motion to approve Hathcock's re-appointment.

Commissioner Michael Newman seconded, and the measure passed 4-0. (Moody was not present at the meeting.)

The TCWSD board currently has four members, following the end of Kicklighter's term and the removal of two other board members by the commission in March. The vacancy was not addressed during the May 17 hearing.

In addition to Hathcock, who serves a vice chairman, the other sitting board members include Chairman Michael Hunter, Michael Lynn and Gayle Lundy.

May 20, 2022:

Sometimes folks need a break or a rest or a holiday or a spell -- whatever you want to call it.

Anyway, the need came on strong for me awhile back, so I stopped posting. The break recharged me, and I need to hold onto that positive feeling, like everybody else.

Although it's a little dry, the farm is still graciously pretty, even in the ugly spots.

I'm using the chance to clear popcorn trees out from around the ponds. Birds must spread them. All I know is you never get through killing them. I chopped about 30 from around Laura's pretty pond yesterday.

Some lime on my peas made them look better, and darken up. The dang army worms ate the first of my tomatoes. Quint, up at Ace Hardware, sold me some Sevin spray that took care of them, but it was a big loss, and I could be eating tomatoes.

I never grew prettier squash, and we are eating bell pepper, collards and cukes.

I filled in skips in the okra patch with post hole diggers the other day and they never looked back. I just hope the nematodes let me make some this year. I'm in a new spot which is about all you can do.

I built a little stretch of fence and tore out an old fence, hauled off a load of scrap iron (earning $54) of mostly old boiler pipe from the mill. Pap loved that pipe.

I'm still curating for the loft museum. Thanks to everyone who has donated relics. That, and seeing how much less I can make do on, which seems to be a necessity.

May 22, 2022:

I fixed the leg on this salvaged bench (below) --

I left the barnyard gate open and a cow got in the garden, did some fertilizing!

after giving Parker $5 for it -- and touched up the paint. It sits comfortably and will go in my side garden I made last year. I am going to hoe it out and will rake in fresh pine straw. The contee froze back last year but have re-emerged.

David Carlton grew up in Taylor County, where he worked on a Woods Creek Road farm in his youth. Decades later, he now owns that farm and spends his days tending to his cows and enjoying the country life.

"Although it's a little dry, the farm is still graciously pretty, even in the ugly spots," David Carlton says.

David Carlton paid $5 for this salvaged bench and fixed the leg before placing it near his side garden.
